From the desk of Pastor Rohde:

When a blaze breaks out we quickly seek to extinguish a fire with water or a fire extinguisher. We extinguish the fire with these things everywhere but in our relationships with other people. There we have a tendency to fight fire with fire. We wonder why human relationships are strained, and yet we do not fight them according to God's instruction.

Jesus says in Matthew 5:43-45: "You have heard it was said, 'Love your neighbor and hate your enemies.' But I tell you: Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you, that you may be sons of your Father in heaven." The God-inspired writer Paul gives similar instruction to God's people as he writes: "Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good" (Romans 12:2).

God's prescription as His people deal with strained relationships is not to fight fire with fire, but to fight fire with love. We are to mimic our heavenly Father Who dealt with us in like fashion. We were sinners and enemies of God. We were hostile to God and did not submit to God's laws (Romans 8:7). Yet, Paul tells us: "God demonstrates His own love for us, in that while we were still sinners, Christ died for us." God the Father fought fire with the water of love as He poured out His lifeblood upon Calvary's cross. Now as we are clothed with Christ through the waters of Holy Baptism (Galatians 3:26-27), we are to share that same love, mercy and compassion of our heavenly Father with others.

There are risks and dangers involved in doing this. People can abuse or misuse our acts of love as they have done with God. Yet, there is no other way to extinguish the fire of hatred and ill feelings than with the spirit of love. Fighting fire with love is a mark of a follower of Christ. If we can only learn to fight fire with the water of Christ's love, blessings will fall upon marriages, families, churches, and the world around us. Let us make the world a better place by loving one another in Christ.

Lord, help me to overcome darkness with light, evil with good, and hatred with love. Amen.

Lesson in Stewardship: A Daily Walk

Jesus in His Sermon on the Mount told us: “Do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will worry about itself. Each day has enough trouble of its own” (Matthew 6:24). Jesus taught us to pray: “Give us this day our daily bread” (Matthew 6:11). Jesus is true to His promises about caring for our needs on a daily basis as observed in the account of the widow of Zarephath (I Kings 17:7-24).

These truths are meant to have us live out our lives on a daily basis. If God only gives us enough for today and our cupboards are bare, we are not to be worried about tomorrow, but confidently believe in God’s providential care. If God gives us more than we need for today, we may store it up, but our faith is to continue to trust in God’s providential care and not in our stored up resources.

The lyrics of a familiar Christian song are to be the theme by which we live our lives: “One day at a time sweet Jesus That’s all I’m askin’ of You Just give me the strength To do every day what I have to do. Yesterday’s gone sweet Jesus And tomorrow may never be mine Lord, help me today, show me the way One day at a time.”

attached to the schools, they fell in love with the culture and the people. These relationships stuck with them even after returning to the States. They have often longed to return together with a small team, strengthening and rekindling these relationships, and starting others by inviting new American friends into the beauty of the people and the place in which they lived. Hannah and Kelly have been fortunate enough to work with MCN to lead a short-term team back to Hong Kong this summer, and both are excited for the privilege and opportunity to continue the service of sharing the Gospel with people who they love dearly, encouraging them in Christ and His bountiful grace, and loving them the way they have and continue to love us."

Mission News

We have a team returning to Peru again this July. It is hard to believe that 5 years have passed since our last mission team traveled to Peru. Near the end of July, Chris Leeper will be leading the team from St. Paul's and joining up with the Tennessee team in Knoxville, to travel to Manchay, Peru. A bus in Manchay will then take the team to Chanchamayo 10 hours away. They will be ministering in the village with devotions, teaching each other Spanish and English, sharing the gospel of Christ and enjoying the love of Jesus with the townspeople through fellowship and song. This year they also hope to go to the orphanage to minister to the children there. More information about team members, exact dates and how we can help will be coming as things are finalized.

St. Paul's continues to be dedicated to helping Haiti. Through donations from many congregations, the roof is now complete on the church in Fond Rouge and the wall protecting the orphanage has been rebuilt. Haitian Lutheran Mission Project has also been able to give ten teachers microloans, eight pastors motorcycles and built an irrigation system in the village of Colminy; which is providing much needed water to produce enough food for the village as well as surplus to sell at market.

Unfortunately, due to the loss of the plane from Port-Au-Prince to Jeremie, we will not be able to send an actual team to Haiti for the foreseeable future. However, the Mission Board urges the congregation to continue to have a heart for Haiti by supporting the microloans for teachers, motorcycles for the remote village pastors, or the school lunch ministry programs. We will be sending $600 that has been collected here to the Haitian Lutheran Mission Project this month. It is still possible to glorify the Lord and do great things in Haiti. Thank you for your continued support. God is so very good!

Yarn that was collected for Lutheran Child and Family Services will be delivered to the Impact Program the end of this month. Thank you all for your generosity. We will be sending 2 very large boxes of yarn for the girls to knit and crochet with.

Please prayerfully consider your role in God's mission family. Whether you join a team to serve physically or donate so that others might serve, or both, know that Jesus is glorified in all things. If you want to give to a specific need or program, please note that on your envelope. God's blessings to each of you.

Forever In His Service,
St. Paul's Mission Board

BIBLE STUDY OPPORTUNITY!!

The Ladies Encouragement Group (LEG) has begun “Prophets and Kings – Being in the Culture and Not of It”. It is from the Focus on the Family series, “That the World May Know” with teacher and historian, Ray Vander Laan. In ancient times, the Hebrews were confronted daily with decision of :”Whom shall I serve?” The consequences of their choice are the stories that make up; the Old Testament. This study explores the turbulent history of Israel’s prophets and kings and we will learn from their story how to build our own devotion to and trust in God. In addition to watching the DVD, there will be time for Bible Discovery and Discussion. The group meets at 7 pm in the Jerusalem room. All ladies are encouraged to attend! Summer LEG meetings are;

May 1 st	Innocent Blood-Part Two (includes some review if you missed the first session)
May 15 th	Who is God?
June 5 th	The Wages of Sin
July 17 th	The Lord is My Shepherd
July 31 st	God with Us

WE HAVE A JOB FOR MEN

The Men’s Breakfast Bible Study meets every other week on Wednesday morning from 6:30AM to 7:30 AM and through fellowship and Bible study we help each other in our “jobs” that God has given us. The food and fellowship often create laughter that we all enjoy. Please come and learn with the rest of us. Our schedule for 2015 is as follows:

May 4, 18      June 1, 15, 29      July 13, 27      August 10, 24

May Devotion: "Learning from God's Lesser Creatures"

"See how the lilies of the field grow. They do not labor or spin. Yet I tell you that not even Solomon in all his splendor was dressed like one of these."

Matthew 6:28-29

Referring to a pair of Canada geese building their nests in metropolitan St. Louis, a newspaper article said: "Unlike many West County residents, Canada geese keep the same mate for life, forming new relationships only when widowed."

The Bible urges us to learn from lesser creatures -- diligence, for instance: "Go to the ant, you sluggard; consider its ways and be wise!" (Proverbs 6:6). Gratitude can be learned, as Isaiah writes: "The ox knows his master, the donkey his owner's manger, but ... My people do not understand" (Isaiah 1:3) – do not understand that God is the giver.

As for caring about the young, is there a better example than a mother bear attending to her cubs? Animals are known to be faithful, like the Skye terrier of Edinburgh, Scotland, named Greyfriars Bobby, who for 14 years stayed at his master's grave. The city built him a statue.

Faithfulness, diligence, gratitude are qualities we can learn from God's lesser creatures. Jesus bids us consider the lilies of the field, the birds of the air, even the lowly sparrows, learning from them to trust in God's providence. Some truths, however, God's lesser beings cannot teach us – truths about our spiritual well-being. For this we have to turn to the Word of God, to people who can teach us the Word. Saint Paul tells Timothy that his mother, Eunice, and grandmother, Lois, had taught him the faith (2 Timothy 1:5). And where did they find this faith? In "the Holy Scriptures, which are able to make you wise for salvation through faith in Christ Jesus" (2 Timothy 3:15). Not only from adults but also from little children we can learn this truth: "Jesus loves me, this I know; for the Bible tells me so." It takes Christian humility to learn from God's lesser beings.

PRAYER: Lord God, help me learn the truths to believe and to live by, through all You have said and done. Amen.
